Rams Dropped In Tournament

Belle Glade High School's Golden Ram basketball team proved to be the halcyon banners of the District 8 tournament at Seacrest last week when they posted two strong victories before falling to their old stumbling block, Lake Worth.

Lake Worth has had the Rams' number four times this season, twice in regular season play, once at the Glades Invitational and once at the last week's tournament.

After Belle Glade cut out Central Catholic of Ft. Lauderdale and inched Seacrest 33-31, they fell prey to the Trojans of Lake Worth, 71-13.

Butch Davis, who won a berth on the all-tournament team, fouled out in the third stanza of the Trojan contest and left the Rams without backboard control. Butch made 15 points before leaving.

A word of praise is due John Chambliss, who is better at rebound than basketball Chambliss looked as if he was glued to Kelly Ward, Lake Worth's misplaced Hoosier Hot Shot.

Special Election Year Series

YOUR CANDIDATE

The year 1960 has been termed one of Florida's most important election years. From the governor's race to the smallest county office, a host of candidates announce their intentions to the public. Through this series, The Herald will introduce the readers to the various aspirants between now and election time.

For State Senator . . .

Ralph J. Blank, Jr., state representative from Palm Beach county for the past four years, today announced he will be a candidate for the state senate seat being vacated by Fred O. Dickinson, Jr., subject to the Democratic primary May 3.

"The intelligent solution of many problems demands actual experience in legislative procedure and wide acquaintance in both houses, as well as a thorough understanding of the needs of the area."

Among his committee assignments, Rep. Blank has served as vice chairman of Constitu-

When it's snow time in the north, it's "snow-bird" time in Florida; when the coastal cities are overworked, the "birds" with a gimmick! hasten to the hinterlands, and especially during our harvest season.

No group, as a whole, is more popular in the home state than are Glades folks. Many, however, have occasion to go to the coast, and "pick up bargains" under monetary impulse. Some of us are even "snow-bird" solicitors.

We believe that if you see reason that you will condone your out-of-town buying to profitable reason; you will analyze the "bargains" and come to the conclusion that GLADES MERCHANDISE OFFER NATIONAL KNOWN BRAND ITEMS AT THE SAME OR LESS PRICE!

There are other "impelling reasons":

Who contributes most to community welfare . . . To church, to school, to society, to civic movements, to charity and improvements? Usually the home town merchants.

Who are the first to work for needed improvements, for better streets . . . for a cleaner city beautification . . . for the very things that make us proud of our home town? Usually, the home merchants.

(Timely hints for vegetable growers: how and when to treat your crops for better yields)

Now is the time to... Use ORTHO Spray Sticker. This highly adhesive liquid sticker should be used when applying wettable powders. Extensive use has shown ORTHO Spray Sticker has increased the adhesiveness of wettable powder formulations, following one to four inches of rain, to an extent that from 50-40% of the original deposit remains as compared to 25-15% when no sticker is used.

WMU Circles Study Christian Use Of The Ballot

The Jane Evans Circle of the First Baptist Church Missionary Union held a meeting at the home of Mrs. Vernon Jones on N. W. Avenue B Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Josephine Hayes presided over a short business meeting, when activities of the social committee were reported, and the community mission project for the month of March was announced as, "following up prospective and seeking out and inviting new prospective members of the missionary union."

A glowing report on the pre-revelation cottage prayer meeting was given by Mrs. Jane Little. Mrs. Bea Barrett, program chairman, had charge of the interesting program. This is the last program of a three month series based on "Christian Citizenship," this one being titled, "Christian Use of the Ballot."

Mrs. Vernon Jones gave the devotional, taken from Romans 13:1-2 and Luke 23:23.

"Politics - The Christian's Responsibility," was discussed by Mrs. Jane Little, stating that the Christian is a citizen of two worlds, that in a sense she has one foot in heaven and the other firmly planted on earth. That sometimes it is difficult to keep one's balance this way. Many Christians, therefore, prefer to stand on one foot - the heavenly foot - and disassociate themselves from a responsibility to the world in which they live. She quoted Dr. C. G. Rutenbaur's statement to the effect that we should instead follow the Lord Jesus Christ, who did not stay in heaven but came and waded into the middle of the whole mess in order to save us. In other words, "politics is everybody's business, especially the business of the Christian citizen."

Mrs. Litchfield and Mrs. Little presented a playlet "Our Heritage - the ballot defining our duty." Mrs. Junius Harris spoke about the voting laws that govern us.

Mrs. Barrett closed the program by reciting the following: "Rise up, O Women of God! Have done with lesser things."

No Action Seen On Road Change

No action has been taken by the State Road Department in a request from County Commissioner Paul Rardin to erect warning signs and paint outside-white lines on the pavement on SR 80.

Rardin said this week that already two people had been killed on the stretch of SR 80 about which the letter was written. Rardin wrote District Engineer Winslow Carlton at Ft. Lauderdale on Mar 1 stating that he and State Representative Emmett S. Roberts had discussed erection of signs on SR 80 near 20 Mile Bend to a point near Six Mile Bend similar to signs already in existence on Connors Highway which read, "Caution—Deep Canal."

The painting of right-hand white lines on the highway would be a great help to motorists on the hazardous stretch of highway.

NEW Gold Bond Double-Action TWINSULATION

makes drafty rooms snug and comfortable . . .

In fact, Gold Bond Twinsulation installed in your attic not only keeps your rooms warmer in winter; it also keeps them cooler in summer.

The fire-safe rock wool, an excellent insulator itself, together with the foil/aluminum reflective blanket surface provide a double bar against the passage of heat either way. Wherever the blanket faces a minimum 1/4" air space, its surface reflects back radiated heat.

So you see, Twinsulation keeps heat where you want it all year round—outside in summer, inside in winter. Make your home more comfortable; pay for itself in permanently lower heating and cooling—bills. Simple to install.

SIXTY-NINE FEEDER CALVES, loaded in this 40 foot double deck cattle truck, purchased here last week at the Livestock Market are headed for Northern feed lots.

Purchased by A. F. Crow of Milford, Illinois this is the first such shipment of feeder cattle to leave the Glades for "whiter pastures." Leo Oyster, trucker, reported 8 inches of snow on the ground when he arrived there.

There is great potential for the development of a feeder market here, according to

George Young, market manager, who further says that "unfortunately we do not now produce enough cattle in the area for our own use."

An article, prepared by the Florida Development Commission scheduled to appear in April issue of The Livestock Producer, will tell the story of profits made by northern feed lots on cattle originating in the Glades.

Classes Steady At Glades Mart

Forty-two percent of the 610 cattle sold at the Monday Glades Livestock Market went to slaughter, according to the weekly market bulletin which states that the gross receipts were $22,909.41. Sixty percent of the run was cows; 45 percent of them sold for slaughter.

Compared to last week's slaughter steers and heifers were scarce; calves steady to 50 cents higher; cows and bulls steady. Stocker steers, heifers and cows sold steady; calves were steady to $5.00 lower on light weights.

Slaughter Prices
Steers (4) 18.50-18.50; heifers (7) 14.25-12.25; calves (60) 20.00-28.50; cows (177) 12.25-19.25; bulls (8) 16.50-20.80.

Stocker Prices
Steers (29) 16.00-22.50; heifers (25) 15.50-21.25; calves (101) 13.00-23.00; cows (190) 12.50-19.00; bulls (8) 11.75-19.00.

Special Service
The market report bulletin also states: "Board Sales supplementing the regular auction sale is now a reality; first sale will be held Monday at 3 p. m. "This means that your livestock marketing cooperative is now more than an auction market. It is now in position to render a full marketing service to its members and the buyers who are so important to us as producers."

"Your association can now provide slaughter outlets for slaughter every day in the week. Buyers can be confident that their competitors are also buying on a 'free market'."

Over 88.5 Sp By US Engineer

U. S. Army engineers spent more than $88 and one-half million on civil and military projects in Florida and U. S. territories during 1959.

Col. Paul D. Troxler, district engineer at Jacksonville, announced $78,828,000 worth of construction was placed in Florida and $14,700,000 in Puerto Rico, the Panama Canal Zone and Bermuda.

The largest portion, or $68,233,000, went for military works. The remainder was for civil works.

New District Engineer Replaces Co. Troxler

Colonel Julian V. Sollohub is being assigned as District Engineer for the Army Corps of Engineers at Jacksonville, Florida, effective August 1, 1960. He will succeed Colonel Paul D. Troxler, the Jacksonville District Engineer since June 1957, who is retiring from active service on July 31, 1960.

Colonel Sollohub is 43 years old and was born in Scotia, New York. He was commissioned in the Army Corps of Engineers in 1937 following graduation from the U. S. Military Academy, West Point.

Snowbirds Appear Collector Warns

It's time to beware of the itinerant peddlers, solicitors and various other snowbirds, warns Belle Glade Tax Collector Clarence Tilton, who says that collectors and salesmen who present themselves without proper licenses from the city should be turned away and reported.

"No itinerant collector of charity funds who comes from out of the city should be recognized," Tilton said. "It seems, according to some national magazines," he continued, "there is out a large list of unscrupulous and regular racketeer drives that should not be recognized and they're on the march."

In past years the Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce and Tilton's office, which issues licenses, has been quite successful in driving away unwanted elements of gyp artists and swindlers.

Concerted efforts by these two agencies has resulted in better conditions and fewer snowbird schemes which come to our city.

All solicitors must have city licenses and should have chamber of commerce approval cards to present when making a house call. Only legitimate dealers will have such certification, Tilton said.

Miami Visitors Will Tour Area

Thirty-eight persons will tour the Glades vegetable farming area Mar. 17-18 under the auspices of the Miami-Dade County Chamber of Commerce under a plan coordinated by Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce, according to Executive Director L. L. Price.

After a trip up U. S. 441, the entourage will be met at Canal Point for a tour of the Pahokee area before a luncheon on the Pahokee dike area.

In the afternoon the visitors will see packing and precooling operations at Belle Glade, field harvesting and packing of celery before going to Clewiston for a look at U. S. Sugar Corp. activities in the late afternoon.

Every person is responsible for all the good within the scope of his abilities, and for no more, and none can tell whose sphere is the largest.

Special Election Year Series

YOUR CANDIDATE

The year 1960 has been termed one of Florida's most important election years. From the governor's race to the smallest county office, a bevy of candidates announce their intentions to the public. Through this series, The Herald will introduce the readers to the various aspirants between now and election time.

Loran V. (L. V.) Carlton made his formal announcement to seek the important Commissioner of Agriculture post in the State Cabinet.

Carlton, who graduated from the College of Agriculture at the University of Florida, and holds a Bachelor of Science Degree in Agronomy and a Masters Degree in Beef Production stated, "My main reason for seeking this post is that my family who has been in Florida Agriculture and Government for over three generations guided my education for a career in Florida Agriculture."

"As Commissioner, my policy will be to see that every agricultural interest as well as those affected by department policy be given my fullest attention. I will continue and expand upon the fine program carried out by Mr. Nathan Mayo during his long and distinguished career as commissioner. Too, because of my own technical background in agriculture, I shall be ever mindful of the increasing need for research in improving all phases of department activity."

After serving with the U. S. Marines during World War II, he returned to the Graduate School at Gainesville and earned his Masters of Agriculture Degree in Beef Production.

Carlton's practical experience includes 4 years as manager of the 5,000 acre Edward Swift Ranch near Sarasota, and following his recall to service for the Korean Conflict, served as manager of the 13,000 acre EK Ranch in Lake County for 7 years.

Carlton calls Deland his home, but currently resides with his wife and three children in St. Petersburg where he has been attending Stetson Law School. He is an active member in the U. F. W., Kiwanis, and Moose.

Oil Industry Had Bumper Sales Year

The oil heat industry experienced its best year in three years during 1959, registering a 12 per cent national gain over 1958 in domestic burner sales, according to a report from the Better Home Heat Council of Florida.

"The gain in Florida was a head of the national figure," said Council President Reggie Moffat. "This was extremely significant in view of the fact that 1959 marked the first time a real effort ever has been made to sell the idea of oil heat to homeowners, buyers and builders in this state."

Moffat said oil heat's increase in popularity in Florida was primarily due to its price advantage over competitive forms of heating.

"In many areas, the savings on oil heat run as high as 50 and 60 per cent compared to the next cheapest form of home heat," Moffat declared.

"Oil has always had this advantage, but the industry has never attempted to exploit it and as a result many homeowners in Florida have not been familiar with the economy of this form of heat."

The Better Home Heat Council—which began advertising its endorsement of oil heat last fall—plans to expand upon its statewide program this year. Moffat predicted even greater gains to roll heat in 1960.

"Radically new advances in oil burners have been made and a wide range of new oil-fired equipment will begin going onto the market this year," the BHH Council President said.

"This will result in lower installation costs and greater economy of operation, enabling homeowners to save even more money through the use of fuel-oil."

Everything good or worthy, God made. Whatever is valueless or baneful, He did not make,—hence its unreality.

School Patrol Boys Enjoy Barbecue

Members of the Belle Glade school patrol enjoyed a fishing contest and excellent barbecue Saturday afternoon on an outing held near Slim's Fish Camp.

New spin-fishing rods were given as prizes to Herbie Giese for the first fish caught, Archie Kirchman for the most fish caught, and to Dennis Connell for the largest fish caught.

The barbecue was catered by Milo (Pappy) Jones assisted by Mrs. Carl Crawford.

Elementary Principal Carl Crawford, Ruth Rudder, school patrol advisor, and Frank Zuchelli, police school zone officer, were present.

Getting an idea should be like sitting down on a pin; it should make you jump up and do something.

Tremendous Asset

our community... to society... to our industrial, commercial, financial and moral life? Usually the home merchants.

Who digs into their pocket-books deeper than the home town merchants to support community benefits? Day by day, in every way, home town merchants are contributing of their time, their energy and money to make this community a bigger and better place in which to live.

It is proper and fitting then, that we give more than a passing thought to the debt we owe the home town merchant and that we come to the realization that this debt can be repaid by giving to them the trade of the community, a trade well earned and rightfully theirs.

About one third of every dollar spent away from home goes to improve and develop someone else's town.

Let's remember and spend our dollars for the development of our town.

You Can Get Close To Your Work — If You Use Short-Hoe Technique

The Glades area is well known — not only for its abundance of crops — but also for its unique way of farming. Our machines are sometimes astounding to visitors and non-agricultural people. Another facet of our unique ways is a group of Osceola Center residents who are farm workers known as "Philippine Boys."

These men perform back-breaking toil in the fields with ease using a short handled hoe barely 14 inches long. They dig, lettuce, escarole, romaine, endive, chicory and other crops to about one plant per foot with the hoe in their right hand and finish the job with the bare left hand.

Both hands work fast at the same time as the team moves rhythmically down the long rows. It sounds simple, but did you ever try two independent hand operations and an all-day stoop at the same time?

In six or seven hours the team does four miles per man or a row equivalent to a row 36 miles long.

Most of these men have done this work for 20 years or more. Two of them are over 60 years old. Alex at 64 years is the oldest and he is one of the fastest.

During the winter months they work on Gressinger's Farm here and in the summer months they do the same work for ten farmers near Hartsville, Ohio.

Most of them have families and their families stay in Belle Glade during the summer. The team "batches" in who and do their own cooking. Joe cooks breakfast and dinner; the rest take turns cooking supper except for Frank, who is the dishwasher, "I'm afraid they couldn't stand my cooking!" he says.

Now That You Put It That Way . . .
It's the job of the U. S. Mint to make money first . . . and your job to make it last.

Times Have Changed

Before roads came to the Glades and before consumers created the demand for goods, the rule of the old days was to go to a boat to get the laundry to do much of the shopping. Now that sweat-soaked Detroit creations dot the streets times have changed and shopping patterns have been altered.

Visiting the larger metropolitan areas is admittedly enticing . . . perhaps a chance to include a bit of recreation for the family. Dollars are often spent away from home for THE SAME MERCHANDISE AT THE SAME PRICES as carried by merchants in your own home town.

Let's check that impulsive buying by first making a mental check — "Can't I get the same thing at home?"

Shopping at home means more than convenience and time these days. It means you're actually making your community better many ways. Demand by consumers makes a community progress by adding new shops, more stores and additional people to operate them.

Money spent in the community enlarges the area's payroll, puts more meat in the tax rolls and lessens the burdens shared originally by only a few taxpayers.

More monies flowing through the community brings out an engaging spirit. Business incomes are re-invested in other facets of enterprise and development.

It may seem difficult to realize that your dollar rung up in the cash register of a local merchant is a community investment—but it's true. In banking and personal investments, good sound business sense tells you to put your dollars where you get the best return with the least risk. Apply this thinking to your shopping dollar. Spend it at home where the money keeps on working for you. Then reap the benefits and enjoy them.

Just How Far Can We Go?

Through a never-ending editorial policy of promoting the Glades and its people and businesses, The Herald does its part to "wake the town and tell the people" about what's going on and who's doing it. Through news and feature stories, The Herald tells hometown folks and outsiders about our area's growth, development and potential.

To a greater degree, our advertising columns carry an equally important message about business and folks who offer services and goods. As our efforts increase to accomplish these ends, a problem is ever present.

We're constantly in the uncomfortable position of being asked to give away what we sell—space. It's a challenge and privilege to do our part for public service and to promote worthy causes, yet, we must eventually draw the line on what is to be given away.

While no one questions the publicity of charitable measures and drives, our mail is filled to the brim with so-called "commercial plugs." These must be left to judgement as to what's news and what goes over the line to advertising.

Our policy is: "If you charge, we charge." Our advertising columns would more appropriately carry your message to the public—and certainly more effectively on any money-raising event. You wouldn't ask your grocer to donate his meats or produce to your market buggy because you bought all your canned goods at his store. He must also sell his meat and produce.

Please be restrictive in asking us to publicize your club money-making projects or free . . . a story along with your ad will more effectively put over your venture and help your hometown paper to better promote our hometown.

Legion Anniversary

This world's largest veteran's organization, The American Legion, marks its 41st anniversary Mar. 15-17 with participation from more than 27 million veterans of World Wars I and II and the Korean Conflict taking part.

From the Legion's beginning at Paris in 1919, the organization has vowed that it won't be simply an organization wherein its members get together to swap war stories. Their direct efforts from local to national level accomplish matters ranging from the protection of veterans' benefits to the preservation of national pride and patriotism in addition to a host of other civic activities for the communities in which they serve.

If your child has ever attended Boys' or Girls' State conferences, they have seen the American Legion at work building better citizens and better interest in government.

If your youngster has ever played baseball under the Legion's program, he has seen the recognition of sportsmanship and community spirit driven by the Legion.

And when you hear about citizenship awards and oratorical contests, you've seen a statement in the Legion's preamble at work: "To safeguard and transmit to posterity the principles of justice, freedom and democracy."

Why A Chamber Of Commerce

A Chamber of Commerce is made up of a composite group of serious, happy, high-minded men in the service for the good of their community—Democracy of Doers.

This is exactly what a Chamber of Commerce is—an organized influence for the greatest good of the greatest number—the true significance of Democracy.

In a Chamber of Commerce, each individual member may constitute an important factor and exercise his talents and activities by co-operation with other members of vision and purpose, and thus round out in a Chamber, and by the Chamber, a super-service.

Full education of individuals comes only where there is a responsible share on the part of each person, according to his capacity and eagerness to cooperate with others.

A membership in a Chamber of Commerce offers an opportunity for a liberal understanding of the constructive plans and purposes of both business and professional experience, through a closer contact with a great variety of men. Therefore, a Chamber of Commerce is, in its individual acceptance an organized influence for individual good. Individuality is developed only when it takes an active part in directing things for the general good of the greatest number and this is one of the great virtues of a Chamber of Commerce — this is "Community interest, not self-interest."

A Chamber of Commerce is the life-blood of service which circulates through the arteries of active men, and like the health-giving blood, it does not appear externally, but is internally coursing.

The democracy of a Chamber of Commerce is inclusive, not exclusive. Creeds and cults, abilities and achievements all working in one organized influence that spell out the age-old thought written like this—The Golden Rule.

I can conceive of no higher honor than to be chosen as a President, a Director, or a Worker in the ranks with the rightly thinking, actively working members of a Chamber of Commerce.

Growers Soliloquy

By S. N. Beard
(Based on Will Shakespeare's "Hamlet" Act 3 Scene 1)

"To plant or not to plant — that is the question: Whether 'tis nobler, after all, to suffer the ups and downs of changing markets Or make plans against a sea of over production and by opposing end them?"

To plant, to grow no more; or by less acres to say we end the heartaches and the thousand natural losses that growers are heir to, 'Tis a consummation devoutly to be wish'd.

To plant — to grow — to sell, perchance to consign. Ay, there's the rub, for in those nebulous realms what dreams of net returns may come.

For who would bear the whips and scorns of heavy losses incurred — the pangs of fading bank account — the accountant sales delay.

To grant and sweat, under a weary grower's life, to be ever in dread of the bankrupt's morgue. Or shall one go to that undiscovered country, full of government plans and subsidies, from whose bourn, no traveler returns— this puzzle the will and makes us rather bear those ills we have, than fly to others, we know not of.

Thus, over production and low markets does make paupers of us all; and all good plans and resolutions are sickened o'er, with no co-operation.

So, enterprises of great-pith and moment are made small when markets remain awry and all F. O. B. sales are lost.

Soft you now — a seed man approaches."

Should you use form 1040 to report your 1959 income tax? 1040 SHORT FORM.

If your adjusted gross income is more than $10,000 and your itemized deductions are less than 10% of your adjusted gross income, you should use short form 1040.

1040 LONG FORM
If your adjusted gross income is over $10,000 you must use this form. If your itemized deductions are over 10% of your adjusted gross income, it will be to your advantage to use this form.

To assure any benefits of the split-income provisions, you and your wife should file a joint return. Both you and your wife must sign a joint return. One spouse cannot file a long form 1040 and take all the deductions and the other spouse file a form 1040A or take the standard deduction or use the tax table.

If your spouse died during 1959 you may file a joint return with your deceased spouse for the year 1959. If your spouse died during 1957 or 1958 you may still compute your tax as though you were filing a joint return, provided you maintain a household which is the principal place of abode of a child or step-child for whom you can claim a dependency credit, and you have not remarried.

If you are expected to pay your income tax on the basis of the lowest figure possible, therefore, you should choose the form that results in the lowest tax.

Uncle Sam From Democrat River

Dear Mister Editor:

A fellow can find a hundred things to say all come with enough fuel to last the life of the car or the life of the driver, whichever comes first. I got a hunch that the fuel will outlast the driver. I'm again mixing atomic power and automobiles. It's bad enough now with high test gasoline and "a couple of beers." You can put this combination together now and get enough jet action to sprinkle the highways with the dead and dying. To put the stopper in the jug, I see this item where the U. S. Savings Bond folks is putting on a drive for the little fellow to save money. The only time the little fellow ever saved money was during the war when there wasn't nothing to buy. All he had to do to keep up with the Joneses (the days was to walk as fast as they did).

But I got a little relief from reading about this fellow in Baltimore getting fined $37.50 for breaking a mirror over his wife's head. He told the Judge if he was going to have 7 years bad luck he might as well get some real benefit from it.

Yours truly,
Uncle Dan.

Southern Belle Telephone Company Reports On 75 Florida Exchanges

The impact of the Southern Bell Telephone Company operations on Florida and the South's economy is illustrated by the firm's 1959 annual report received in Jacksonville, today. Southern Bell serves 1,111 exchanges with 75 exchanges in Florida.

As the year ended, there were 1,200,000 Southern Bell Telephones in the state, 124,756 more than the close of 1959.

The Company built $54,916,391 worth of new facilities in Florida.

President, Ben S. Gilmer, in making the report for the Directors, disclosed that in the South as a whole, a new record was set when more than 550,000 Southern Bell Telephones were added in 1959. A new high by some 78,000 telephones. Of these, 215,000 were residence extensions, reflecting the trend toward more telephones in each home.

The number of Southern Bell telephones more than doubled in the past ten years, which the report described as "our busiest decade." The Company now operated more than 6,815,000 telephones compared to about 2,000,000 at the beginning of the 1950's. Florida's present 1,200,000 telephones compare with 452,000 which were in operation in 1950.

Local calls made over Southern Bell telephones in the single year of 1959 averaged nearly 42 million per year. This is 152 million more per year than a decade ago. Long distance calls averaged over one million daily, double the number a decade ago.

Demonstrating its faith in the continued economic growth of the South, the Company is in its state territory constructed $266,000,000 of new facilities, equivalent to a "Million Dollar Plant" each working day. Company

The Company has long pointed out, said the report, "That the excise tax, enacted as an emergency measure, should be eliminated. As it is, essential telephone service is the only utility service now taxed along with luxury items."

Overall earnings fell short. The report stated that the per share earnings of $1.89 while at a slightly higher rate than for 1958 were short of what they should be and were below the level of other businesses generally regulated and non-regulated. It continued - "We must compete with other businesses for materials, supplies, competent employees and capital and our earnings should be more in harmony with theirs than they are now or have been since the war. Good earnings make it possible in the long run to provide better telephone service and at a lower price than would otherwise be possible."

Enlightening Report Published By Belle Glade Housing Authority

Executive Director Emmett Roberts in a report to the Belle Glade Housing Authority on housing construction and the changing patterns of living of migrant agricultural labor in the Belle Glade-South Bay area, states that some "90 former tenants of Okeechobee (negro) and 24 from Ocoola (white) have moved into their own homes."

Mr. Roberts also points out that, according to the State Employment office "in the period 1950 to 1960 there has been no increase or decrease of labor."

The report also says, "we have about 9,000 migrants and this number increases some 2,000 more in the heavy spring harvest."

About new housing, the report indicates that 156 buildings have been erected with 1,017 units for a total cost of $2,127,000, in the Belle Glade area. "Twenty or more buildings have been torn down accounting for 200 units destroyed—a substantial increase of some 800 (units) or more."

The following are excerpts

Homes	Units	Duplex	Units	Apartments	Units	Rm.	House	Total
1955 7 -	40,500.00	7	4 -	44,000.00	8	1 -	36,000.00	10
1956 16 -	113,500.00	16	4 -	43,000.00	12	1 -	8,000.00	3
1957 2 -	13,000.00	2	6 -	40,000.00	13	8 -	174,000.00	80
1958 14 -	87,800.00	14	4 -	27,500.00	8	5 -	95,500.00	30
1959 40 -	309,000.00	40	13 -	140,000.00	26	5 -	110,000.00	46
79 -	563,800.00	79	33 -	294,500.00	67	20 -	423,500.00	169

Belle Glade with a capacity of 169 units. This has been a trend that families want more space. The situation in South Bay follows a similar pattern, although not on the large scale as in Belle Glade. For a similar period the number of new units constructed are as follows, during the past five years: 2 duplexes, 4 units; 5 homes, plus 18 for permanent workers; 3 apartment buildings, 40 units; 3 rooming houses, 48 units.

There appears to be some increase in the number of migrants living in the South Bay area as several farmers now maintain trucks in the area to haul labor out for use in the Belle Glade area.

As a contrast, the housing situation of the White migrant presents a different picture. There has been practically no new construction accommodating these workers. We have identified only eight locations other than the Ocoola project which rents to white workers. The total comes to 70 units, some of which could be classified as year-round residents, particularly the 33 rooms known as West Apartments in Chosen. We have verified these figures with the County public health office.

The Ocoola project is usually filled to capacity by October, 1st of each year, sometimes earlier, and remains filled until May of the following year. There is a large waiting list, usually over fifty families, and always a waiting list wanting to move into wooden houses.

We have identified some 24 former tenants who have purchased their own homes in the Belle Glade - South Bay area. They are no doubt many others in their own homes but we have no way of knowing the number. Of course, many of the white migrants already own homes in other states and merely return to them during the summer season.

You Can Estimate State Sales Tax

Laurie W. Tomlinson, District Director of Internal Revenue reminded taxpayers of Florida today that the Florida sales tax may be shown as a deduction item on Forms 1040 and 1040W.

Generally, Director Tomlinson said, the average taxpayer may claim one percent of his adjusted gross income for sales tax deductions, but not to exceed $75.00. This holds true only for taxpayers who itemize deductions instead of taking the usual standard deduction.

Ordinarily taxpayers deducting less than $75.00 but not more than one percent of their income as Florida sales tax will not be required to give proof in support of those deductions. Taxpayers claiming amounts more than one percent of their income or more than $75.00 should have records showing they have paid the amount of sales tax claimed.

Mr. Tomlinson cautioned that the law specifically requires that taxpayers keep records of all deductions in case they may be called upon to furnish proof for any item appearing on their returns. He said that his auditors would still question sales tax items that did not seem to be reasonable in the light of other information shown on the tax return.

Senior Girl Scout Investiture Program

Girl Scouting

AUTHOR UNKNOWN

With apologies to Longfellow and his "Hiwatha"
Editor's note: The following poem was composed in the Glades several years ago and still seems appropriate to commemorate Girl Scout Week.

By the shores of Okeechobee,
By the sparkling Big-Lake-Water
Stands the lake town of the Swampland,
Crown jewels of the magic muckland,
High above them rise the cloud banks,
Rise the white and towering cloud forms,
Rise and blow prevailing eastwinds,
Bright beside them lays the water—
Lays the blue and sunny water,
Lays the shining Big-Lake-Water.

In these 'Glades from fall through summer,
Live three merry tribes of Girl Scouts—
"Nesth this canopy of cloud shapes
Near these gently lapping waters.
Here they carry on their pot-works
Carry on in faithful Scout style;
Sing the songs and dance the dances,
Build the fires and do the craftwork.
See the birds in grand migration,
And the flowers in stately bloom;
Watch the stars trek from the eastward
To the western far horizon.

When the mystic circle forms
And taps is sung and wishes made,
Then, again, the squaws get busy
And the next week's plans are laid.
Every squaw an earnest worker
For the tribe and for the "crown."
This crown of earth atop 'Glades,
Studded with three shining jewels—
Pahokee, Clewiston and Belle Glade.

Here's Where We Fit!

Recently The Herald published an editorial called "Where Do You Fit?" which posed the question about where parental control of youngsters ended and where the responsibility of the community belonged in the control, supervision and education of young people in order to destroy roots of juvenile delinquency. This week, Dr. R. J. Allen, Jr., member-at-large, Palm-Glades Girl Scout Council, speaking during Girl Scout Week commemorations, outlined what one group of the public was doing.

He pointed with pride to the accomplishments of the Boy Scout and Girl Scout organizations. Both organizations share similar goals in teaching morality, comradeship and useful living through supervised projects.

More than 50 men or women in the Belle Glade area alone are working with the two troops here. No less than a half-dozen or more adults are directing Boy Scout activities for each troop with committeemen and council members enhancing the ranks of adults who work with these young people each week of the year.

It is commendable, to say the least, that these people work to "bend the twig," as it were, and so shape the "trees" into useful community spokes which fit compatibly into the wheel of life.

Council that was awarded to his father, Dr. E. C. Haines tain the rank of First Class Scout, few do this in five and a half months. Eddie's ambition is to become an Eagle Scout like his father, and from determination he has shown in advancing so rapidly in scouting, it won't be long before this is accomplished.

Danny Lanier, George Towell,

the GLADES takes care of it's own!

'Tis said: "The History of a community is written on the tombstones of its dead!"

Homefolks have been ever reluctant to bury their loved ones in "foreign soil"; yet no facilities had been provided in this area.

Recognizing this great need in our growing community, a LOCAL group joined in organizing the FOREVERGLADES MAUSOLEUM GARDENS

A tract of land has been landscaped, the foundation for four buildings placed, two floor slabs poured, and one unit complete with marble facings.

Two interments have been made in the mausoleum.

Recently, a reorganization has been effected, and three local business men added to the Board of Directors, with controlling ownership and management in LOCAL HANDS.

At it's first meeting the new Board reaffirmed its purposes and readopted the plan of PROGRESSIVE DEVELOPMENT, as designed by the Architect!

Architect's Perspective of COMPLETED GARDENS. The first unit of four buildings is now under construction, with one building complete.

We invite our neighbors to visit the GARDENS — on East Airport Road, Belle Glade, and to make inquiry of any of us, or representative, for full information on this MODERN CEMETERY facility.
